A Romantic Divorce Suit—The Matrimonial Experience of an Irish Emigrant—Three Years of Misery, Sailor, Separation of Thirty Years—Another Case of Separation—Meeting of Father and Son—Unhappy Meeting—The Old Love Renewed for Fifty Days—The Second Wife Resumed—Suit For Divorce and Alimony.

In the year 1830, if Mrs. Catharine Spellman can be believed, she, the said Catharine, at the parish of Meganigh, in the county of Mayo, Ireland, became endowed of, all and singular, the potato patch, pig, cow, and other particles of furniture, which were then possessed by John Spellman, in consequence of the matrimony of the said John and Catharine. Of the particulars of the courtship, the description of the wedding, or the character of the honeymoon, all serious public must for the present remain in ignorance.

The subsequent married life of the parties is not, however, involved in so much obscurity. A part of it was put upon the records of Washington, D. C., a day or two since, in the nature of a bill for divorce, although the parties have been married nearly two score years. In the usual humble and respectful language, the libellant informs the Court that she was married at the time and place above mentioned, and the Court is informed that she is also informed that, for the succeeding five years, the said John and Catharine engaged and suffered the ordinary joys and sorrows of the married life, a part of the latter being the birth of three children—Patrick, Bridget and Michael—now aged, thirty-five, thirty-four and thirty-two years respectively. Whether Mr. Spelman found the difficulty of providing for a family too laborious, or whether the infirmities of Mrs. Spellman's temper was such that distance lent enchantment to her presence, can not at present be accurately stated. The public have, however, the statement that after a five years' trial of the matrimonial state, he one day, without the knowledge of the spouse, embarked for America and left her to provide for the children as best she might.

For the next twenty years, it would seem Mrs. Spellman patiently awaited for some tidings of her truant husband, but receiving none, determined, if possible, to find him in person, and accordingly crossed the ocean with her children, that she might continue the matrimonial relation as to the whereabouts of Mr. Spellman. Nearly ften more years of fruitless labor elapsed, until, some time in October, 1865, the eldest son, Patrick, discovered the whereabouts of his progenitor in the county of stephenson, in this State. The circumstances which led to the recognition, it is to be regretted, were not deemed of sufficient importance to be alleged in the bill. It is barely possible that, like Daphne in the fable, he may have been led to the discovery by a similarity of structure in the nasal organ of the respective parties, or some other significant incident quite as trivial.

Mr. Spellman, sr., was somewhat dust.atled by the advent of a son thirty years old, and not without a cause for such a feeling, for he was under the disagreeable necessity of introducing his first-born to Mrs. Spellman No. 2, the latter having previously occupied the bed and board of Mr. Spellman, senior, for only the moderate period of twenty-eight years, and as a consequence of the presence, having a couple of children in the meantime to grace the family circle. In a pecuniary point of view, too, Mr. Spellman's emigration to America had been a decided success. His income was ranked among the thousands, and he was the fortunate possessor of houses, lands, horses, cattle, stock and other property too extensive to enumerate. Upon the solicitations of his son, however, Mr. Spellman, after a short consultation of his youth, then residing at Philadelphia, where the latter, after a good deal of persuasion, succeeded with the family in the owner of a considerable fortune, was induced to forgive him for his thirty years of desertion, and to sustain the connubial relations provided he would thenceforth be faithful and true to her and to his marriage vows.

For the short period of only fifty-four days did Mr. Spellman enjoy the society of his former partner, at the expiration of which time he invented a plausible story, informed Mrs. Spellman No. 1 that he was going to return to Ireland for the purpose of disposing of his property, promising to return again, and give Mrs. Spellman No 2 wide berth on his land. But Mr. Spellman did not so return, and it would seem, if the statements of the bill are correct, that, after a second trial of the matrimonial qualities of Mrs. Spellman No. 1, he again deserted her for the more pleasing and amiable companionship of Mrs. Spellman No. 2.

The outrage of a second desertion was too much even for a person possessing the forgiving disposition of the elder Mrs. Spellman. Nothing less than a divorce and ample alimony will satisfy her outraged nature, and to secure the latter she procured from the Court a writ of ne exeat republica to prevent the fickle John from again departing for parts unknown.—Chicago Times.

A Midnight Scene in General Grant's Camp.

The battle of Arbela was the eloquence of daring on the part of the young Macedonian King. That of Thermopylæ was the eloquence of patriotism on the part of Leonidas and his Helots. The battle of Austerlitz was the eloquence of bravery on the part of young Corsica. The scene of Valley Forge was the eloquence of faith on the part of Washington. The scene after the battle of the Wilderness combined all these elements, and added the eloquence of silence.

The well-known result of that fierce conflict was adverse to the army of the United States. General Lee had flung one wing of his army between our forces and the base of their supplies, which would require another battle to regain them. Each division and corps commander knew this sad condition of affairs. They were all summoned to a council of war, to be held at the headquarters of General Grant. When they were the saddest steps ever taken by that band of devoted hearts. Fifteen thousand brave soldiers, dead, dying or wounded, were lying on the field hard by.

One after another entered, and after making a few remarks, took their seats. Generals Schofield, Meade, Burnside, Sickles, Howard, and others, I believe, were there, but a word was spoken. A full half hour thus passed by. Their emotions were too deep for utterance. Hopes of millions hung on the decision of that council.

At length General Grant asked each one in succession if they had any advice to proffer. Each one answered with a sad monosyllable, no!

The commander then wrote a few lines, and handed the slip to Gen. Meade, and he retired. This was repeated until all were gone, and the General was left alone. One of the staff of a division commander, who was sick, was the last to retire, and he had authority for the above.

All were ignorant of each other's order. They felt assured that retreat had been dirrected. Any other alternative would have been believed to be madness. Had they known that the order had been given to advance, instant and universal mutiny would have been raised. That eloquent silence for which he was ever been noted, was the key to his success there.

The next morning each corps moved, and Gen. the Instant the order received it, with vehemence exclaimed: "Our enemy have a leader at last, and our cause is lost!" He had had his officers the night before to let their soldiers sleep long. But now he saw the army whom he thought utterly defeated moving round between him and the base of his supplies.

He hastened to begin retracing his course, and confessed to an artillery officer of the Confederate army that the doom of their cause was sealed.

The Peace Congress—The Plenipotentiaries—What France is Willing to Accept—Prussia Wants a Guarantee—Sentiment—Britain Studying the Situation—Movements of Russia.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The Herald's special dated London, 9th, says: The first session of the Peace Congress, after its organization in this city yesterday, was not merely a formal meeting of the great powers' representatives, but one at which the Luxemburg question was discussed with a desire to bring the difficulty between France and Prussia to a speedy close.

The names of the plenipotentiaries are: England—Lord Stanley, President; France—Prince De La Tour D'Auvergne; Prussia—Count Bernstroff; Austria—Count Appolngi; Russia—Baron Brunow; Italy—Marquis D'Azzilo; Luxemburg—Baron Distarnco; Belgium—M. Van De Meyer; Netherlands—Baron Bentenell.

The proceedings are kept secret till the close of the Convention.

This much, however, is known, that France is willing to accept the neutralization of Luxemburg, and the dismantling and razing of the fortress, so that it may not prove a menace to France. Prussia is not disposed to consent to this, unless all the Great Powers now represented in the Congress give a guarantee of the settlement. The giving of this guarantee would bind them to engage in war against the future designs of either France or Prussia, should aggrandizement in this direction. England hesitates to give such a guarantee, and favors the idea of the people of Luxemburg for annexation to Belgium.

The session was adjourned to Thursday to enable the Representative to have telegraphic communication with their respective governments. Meantime, pending the issue of the deliberations of the Peace Convention, great war preparations are going on on both sides, notwithstanding the official denials to the contrary. France is buying arms both in England and Spain, and the Prussian troops of the regular army are being held in readiness to support the garrison in Luxemburg.

The Berlin Gazette, dated Berlin, yesterday, the 8th, says: Count Bismarck, in conversation on the aspect of affairs, on Tuesday, declared that the situation is now more serious than ever before.

Russia is looking out for her chances of aggrandizement in the East and Poland by the opportunity of a general war. Muskets are being converted into breech-loaders for all the Russian army.

The general opinion on the continent is that the maintenance of peace depends on the action of the London conference. Fears are entertained that the failure of the representatives there assembled may bring on a general European war, in which each country, caring little for the Luxemburg question, or the future possession of the Grand Duchy, will endeavor to forward their own particular designs by force of arms.

Serious Negro Riot—Troops Ordered Out—The Mob Refuse to Disperse at the Command of Gen. Schofield —The Soldiers Charge Repeatedly and Drive the Rioters Off.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, VA., May 9.—A serious riot occurred this evening. A large crowd of negroes gathered in Cary street to witness the trial of the engineer of the colored fire department, and Wilmington, Delaware, fire companies. A fight took place and a negro was arrested. A mob of negroes rescued him, but he was again captured. Upon arriving at the upper Station House, the negro mob again rescued him, throwing paving stones at the police. Captain Jenkins, of the police, two sergeants and one private, were badly injured, some of them seriously. By this time the mob had swelled to nearly one thousand blacks. General Schofield sent a company of the eleventh regiment, and came on the ground himself. He spoke to the mob, commanding them to disperse. His order was disobeyed. The soldiers then charged bayonets and drove them away. More soldiers were sent to the station House after night, and the riot is not likely to be renewed. During the riot the mob surrounded a house in which a negro had taken refuge, and clamored for him until he came out, when the police took him in charge. The negroes said he had a slung shot.

Tragedy in Delaware—Murder by a Jealous Husband.

[From the Washington (Del.) Gazette.]

About nine o'clock yesterday morning the neighbors were startled by screams emanating from the house of Mr. Joseph W. Pratt, on the corner of Seventh and Jefferson streets. Very soon after Joshua Smith, the proprietor of the Franklin House Hotel, of this city, passed out of the house. No one then noticed this, although blood was issuing from wounds on his person and marking the pavement every few steps, as appeared afterward, on examination. After walking some ninety feet he sat down on a step and called for assistance. Those who went to him found him bleeding and asked who stabbed him. He replied, "Joe Pratt," and asked to be taken home. The sleeve of his left arm was full of blood, which he had apparently been endeavoring to stanch from dropping. Upon raising him across the street, when he became so faint that they took him into a shop, and sent for several physicians. One wound was on the left arm near the shoulder, the arteries being severed. He died in about half an hour.

Not then to clock the officers proceeded to Pratt's house and took him to the city hall cells. He made no resistance, and had to be supported by the officers. They then returned to the house and accompanied Mrs. Pratt to the Mayor's office. The circumstances, as we have been able to learn them before the inquest was held, were these.

There were paper hangers in the house at work in the second story. One report is that Smith owned the house, and went there to attend to the repairs that were being made, and Mrs. Pratt is reported to have said that her husband invited him into the front story to talk over some matters, and she, being fearful that there might be some trouble between them, went up also. After she got there, Pratt stabbed Smith. In an effort to prevent this, she received a severe cut in one of her fingers. Reports have been in circulation for several years in which Smith was said to be visiting Pratt's house in his absence. About two years ago Pratt became interested in an oil company in Virginia, and he returned here two weeks ago. He then had an interview with Smith, which resulted rather satisfactorily, and Pratt took his wife to Pennsylvania on a visit. After they returned he went to New York, and came back last Friday night.

Smith's body was removed to his house, and a coroner's jury sworn in about 12 o'clock, which adjourned until 4 P. M. Pratt is about fifty years of age, and Smith, we think was about the same. Mrs. Pratt is about forty. Smith stood well in business man and hotel keeper, being active and energetic. He leaves a wife and four or five children. Mr. Pratt is a gentleman of good education, a fluent speaker, and has always been highly respected by those who knew him. It is said that Pratt says he had not slept for five nights, and that Mrs. Pratt had made some acknowledgement yesterday morning, just previous to Smith's entering the house. In the interview Pratt asked Smith "what he would do to a man who had prostituted his wife?" Smith replied, "I would kill him." It is presumed the knife was then used. It is also said Pratt got information in New York at a hotel where Smith and Mrs. Pratt had put up last summer, that caused him to take the course he did. The physicians say that Smith's life might have been saved had immediate attention been had.

Mr. Hall moved to refer the petition to the Committee on Division of Wards.

Mr. English moved, as an amendment, that it be received and filed. The motion, as amended, was carried.

Mr. Myler presented the report of the Committee on Streets and Sewers, together with an ordinance for the paving and grading of Carroll and Washington streets and Manilla alley; also a resolution for the opening of Locust street, Irwin alley and Page street; also an ordinance fixing the width of all public alleys at not less than twenty feet; also an ordinance fixing the width of Central avenue in the Fifth ward, and changing the name of Central street to Lincoln avenue, Tremont street to Grant avenue, and Railroad street to Manilla alley. The report was accepted and the ordinances read three times and passed.

Mr. Smith presented the monthly report of the Controller, with a statement of bills amounting to $6,881. A resolution authorizing the payment of the bills was adopted.

Mr. Thomas presented the report of the Water Committee, with a resolution to authorize the laying of a foot hach water pipe on Gas alley, in the second ward, from Beech street to North avenue. Report was accepted and resolution adopted; also, a communication from the Superintendent of the Water Works relative to the laying of a twelve inch pipe on Jackson street. An iron ward (Manchester.) The route recommended is as follows: beginning at the junction of Federal and Jackson streets, thence eastwardly along Jackson to Tremont, along Tremont to Island Lane, along Island Lane to Beaver street, along Beaver street to Redoubt street, and there connect with the pipe already laid, the whole distance being ten thousand one hundred and eleven feet, and the estimated cost $4.36 per foot, or an aggregate of over $45,000. The report was accompanied by an ordinance authorizing the laying of the pipe at a cost of four dollars to defray the expenses of the same.

After some discussion a motion was made to fix the value of the bonds at the sum of sixty thousand dollars, which was agreed to. The bonds were fixed at one thousand dollars each, and to bear interest at six per cent., payable semi-annually, at the Treasurer's office, on the first days of January and July, the bonds to be payable in twenty years.

A motion was made to suspend the rules and consider the ordinance on the third reading and final passage, which was lost by a vote of nine to six, and the ordinance was laid over under the rules.

A motion was made to reconsider the vote and that the ordinance be putupon its final passage which was agreed to.

Mr. Hall offered the following, which was read three times and passed:

Resolved, That the Water Committee be and is hereby instructed to receive proposals for—feet of twelve inch water pipe, payable in bonds, or in cash, in equal annual payments of ten, fifteen and four years, with interest at six per cent.

Mr. Irwin presented a communication from the Mechanics' Association, of Manchester, representing that the buildings were in bad repair and asking for an appropriation to place the rooms in repair. Referred to Committee on City Property.

Mr. Brown presented bill of Pennock & Totten for $82.75 for work done for "General" Grant's Warrant records.

Mr. Brown, a resolution to appoint a committee of five, two from Select and three from Common Council, to confer with Mr. C. Smith in regard to horses, &c., of the "General Grant" Company. Adopted and Messrs. Brown and Hall appointed from Select Council. In C. C. laid on table.

Mr. Hall, a resolution allowing circuses and menageries the right to exhibit on the Diamond, during the time they pay such license as the Committee may agree upon. The resolution was referred to the Committee on City Property, and reported back with a fixing the license for circuses, menagerries and other exhibitions, and requiring said exhibitions to be located in the Diamond only.

Mr. Myler offered a resolution, that the Monumental Association be allowed to select a site for the Soldiers' Monument in Allegheny, as a site for their monument, such selection to be made in connection with the Committee on Commissioners. Read three times and passed.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Members present—Messrs. Cutler, Dunham, Dill, Fahnestock, Hanna, Horn, Harper, Ingham, Lowrie, Marsh, Mc Cready, Reed, Smith, Slagle, Voegtlly, Windsor and President Riddle.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Megraw presented the report of Committee on Wharves and Landings with a resolution giving the committee power to lease or sell to the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, a portion of the Allegheny wharf, fifty by nine feet, upon which to build a pier of the railroad bridge. The report also stated that the railroad company would either pay $100 annually, or $1,500 for a title to the ground.

Mr. Megraw said that the Railroad Company appeared to be willing to act liberally in the matter, and as they were empowered to take the ground, the Committee had decided to recommend that the ground be leased for a term of years.

Mr. Hanna did not think Councils had power to sell any portion of the wharf, and that the ground necessary for the railroad to be instructed to lease the ground to the Company.

The amendment was adopted, and the resolution, as amended, was read three times and finally passed.

Mr. Ingham presented the report of the Committee on Division of Wards. The Committee reported in favor of the acceptance of the act of Assembly annexing a portion of McClure and Reserve townships, and in order to give the newly annexed district a representation in Councils, as provided for in the act, submitted an ordinance attaching that portion of McClure township adjoining the Second ward to that ward, and creating a new ward out of the remainder of the district. The ordinance also provides for the division of the First, Second and Fifth wards, making four wards out of those now in existence. Resolutions authorizing the Mayor to issue his proclamation for an election in the new wards to Select members of Council, and that the Recording Regulator be instructed to fix the northern boundary of the city, were appended to the report.

Mr. Slagle said that a committee of residents from Reserve township, were present, who state that ninety-nine of every hundred residents of the district are opposed to the annexation. Mr. Slagle was not in favor of forcing any district into the city limits and hoped that the committee would be heard.

Mr. Hanna said that the act of annexation had passed, and the district now belonged to the city.

Mr. McNeil said that Councils should not be compelled to take in the district, and consolidating Pittsburgh and Allegheny, would certainly pass the Legislature next winter.

Mr. Slagle said he was in favor of consolidating with Pittsburgh, but did not like to see the matter forced on the people. The matter should be laid over, at least for the present.

Mr. Hanna was opposed to annexing Reserve township, unless the residents would assent to it. The people of Reserve township had petitioned the Legislature for the passage of the act, and Mr. Peters, a resident of the district, had engineered it through.

Mr. Megraw said the bill had been smuggled through by persons who used the city water, and who feared their supply would be cut off. The district should not be annexed until the Councils accepted the bill.

After some further discussion, the resolutions and ordinances were read three times and finally passed.

Mr. Hanna, from the Committee on Markets, presented the report of the Clerk of Markets for the month of April, as follows:

Duncan Dallas, Clerk of Markets.....	$2,384 75
John S. Edgar, Diamond Scales.....	225 60
Jas. Hunter, Second Ward Scales.....	216 60
Total.....	$2,826 35

Mr. Ingram, from the Committee on Printing, offered a resolution providing that the Controller report the bill of Nevin & Co. under the direction of the Controller. Adopted.

Mr. Windsor offered a resolution, instructing the Street Commissioner to have that portion of the pavement on Grant avenue, in the Second ward, opposite Mr. Ackley's slaughter house, repaired. Adopted.

Mr. Reed presented the report of the Committee on Engines and Hose, with a resolution authorizing the payment to the Hope Fire Company of twenty dollars, for a set of harness sold by them to the Gen. Grant Company. Adopted.

Mr. Cutler presented the report of the Committee on Gas. The report states that a large discrepancy exists in the amount of gas consumed by the various fire companies. The bills for the last quarter show that the Hope consumed 7,000 feet, Columbia 17,000 feet, Friendship 5,000 feet and the Grant 13,000 feet. The Committee recommended that the matter be investigated. The amount of gas in the City Hall for the last quarter was 106,000 feet, the principal portion of which was used by the Library Association. The Association having received a generous support from the city, and being now firmly established, the committee recommend that they be required hereafter to pay their own gas bills. The report was accepted and the recommendation adopted.

Resolutions providing for the erection of a public gas lamp at the corner of Marshall street and Marion avenue, and one at the corner of James and Hemlock streets, were read and adopted.

Mr. Dill offered a resolution, instructing the Street Committee to have Bidwell street opened to Juniata street, in the Second ward. Referred to Committee on Streets.

On motion adjourned.

For Churches.

Every congregation which can afford even a very moderate expense, say one hundred dollars or more, can now secure a good organ. Until recently, such instruments have not been obtained. Large pipe organs are too costly, and occupy too much space for any but a few of the wealthiest congregations worshiping in the largest churches. The melodeon lacks power and volume of tone

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1867.

THE serious diminution of internal revenue indicates approximately to what extent domestic production has fallen off. It seems probable that the income may prove insufficient for the expenditures.

THE LONDON PEACE CONFERENCE meets the fate of all similar bodies when the political atmosphere is fully charged with electricity; instead of quieting the belligerency, it deepens and widens the agitation. When so many powers contemplate ends that can only be consummated by war, and are equally strong in self-confidence, it is not easy to arrange all the details for a substantial peace.

AN EVENING CONTEMPORARY, a day or two ago, remarked that the GAZETTE had severely censured Senator GRAHAM. This shows how wide of the mark foolish people are apt to get when they give play to their imaginations, and substitute their own crude inferences for facts.

In other quarters, and upon the same grounds, we are reported to have sharply criticized Senator BROWN, of Lawrence county.

In writing the article from which these inferences were drawn, neither Senator GRAHAM nor Senator BROWN was in our mind; but Rev. Senator LANDON, of Bradford county, was. Is that sufficiently explicit.

FREE TRADE REPUBLICANS.

An impression has gone abroad that the Republicans of Chicago and of the west and northwest are opposed to the Protection of Domestic Industry. In large part this impression has been created by the course of the Chicago Tribune. Last autumn that journal inaugurated a movement in behalf of Protection. A public meeting was held in which a number of gentlemen prominently connected with it participated. Soon it made a surprising change, and came out fiercely against Protection. No other journal has been so clamorous for Free Trade or so reckless in statements designed to prove the inutility of that policy. This conversion was attributed to the development of opinion among the Republican masses of the region in which that journal mainly circulates.

The Tribune has hitherto been the organ of the Common Council of Chicago. The Council is Republican. Last Monday evening, with but one dissenting vote, the Tribune was dropped, and the advertising given to the Republican. This latter journal is exactly what its name imports, standing squarely on the Republican Platform and all the planks thereof. It is conducted with energy and ability, is not given to bluster and arrogance, and sustains the doctrine of Protection in the broadest acceptation. Its selection, therefore, as the official organ of the city is significant. It proclaims that the Republicans of Chicago, at least, are not enamored of Free Trade, and do not accept as proper exponents of the party those who are.

TAXING BANK STOCKS.

Some months ago it was judicially decided that National Banks could not be taxed for State purposes. To evade this decision, so far as Pennsylvania is concerned, at the last session of the Legislature a law was passed to tax the stocks of such Banks in the hands of the owners thereof, as personal property. In said law provision is made for special Assessors in each county. Why pass by the regular Assessors, and create a swarm of new officers? The duties of these new officials do not require more delicacy or judgment than those of the common Assessors. Were places created sorely to have places to fill? Were nice plums made because certain men were anxious to eat them?

When this law first appeared in the Senate in the form of a bill, the compensation of the Assessors was fixed at ten per cent. of the taxes levied. This gave color to the suspicion that a job lurked in the plan of creating separate Assessors to do work for which ample force already existed. The House cut the compensation down to five per cent., but the Senate refusing to yield, seven per cent. was agreed upon as a compromise.

It is understood the Assessor for Allegheny county was appointed two or three weeks ago, under a peculiar arrangement; but his name is carefully withheld. It is estimated he will have a scant month's work to do, and will pocket therefor the snug sum of twenty-five hundred dollars. Why take so much for so little, either from the Stockholders or the State Treasury? Has the appointee to divide with potent patrons who secured the place for him? That is accounted the latest fashion in federal appointments. Has it already made its way into the affairs of this Commonwealth? We trust such is not the fact, both for the reputation of the State, and of whatever individuals may be involved.

A maimed and meritorious soldier was urged for this appointment. He was set aside. For whom? For a competent civilian who had claims upon the party? or for a man who has rendered service neither to the country nor to the party? When the name shall be announced the public will be able to judge.

HOPELESSNESS OF MEXICO.

For a period of thirty or forty years, except during the continuance of the French intervention, the Mexicans have found their chief employment in butchering each other. Brigandage has been a regular occupation among them, and enlisted the active exertions of many thousands. While plunder has been the main object, they have been careful to add to the zest of thieving by a resort to frequent assassinations. But bad as their habits have been in respect to personal and property rights, they have been still worse in political relations. It has not mattered which way the ballot boxes decided. An excuse or pretext has always been ready at hand for an appeal from, by one side or the other to the sword.

The French intervention gave that wretched country the only chance of repose and prosperity it has had for more than a generation. The conclusion is not improbable that if NAPOLEON and MAXIMILIAN had been let alone by our authorities they would have succeeded in establishing a stable government, capable of maintaining domestic tranquility and of assuming substantial progress. At all events, if they could not, nobody can. But our authorities conceived they had a mission towards Mexico, which consisted in driving out the foreigners, and allowing its miserable inhabitants to fall upon each other again. This is stating the case pretty strongly, but the facts will justify it. Every man of sense, who had a tolerable knowledge of Mexican character and habits, knew what the withdrawal of the French troops would result in. What was thus anticipated, has happened. If this indiscriminate slaughter of prisoners of war is republicanism, then free institutions, and the advocates thereof, stand disgraced. Our demagogues, when they were shouting themselves hoarse over the Monroe doctrine, knew this very result would happen, if they knew anything. They are principally answerable for it. The blood of prisoners ruthlessly shed, is on their hands.

In view of this responsibility, which they can neither deny nor evade, some of them are now demanding that the United States shall interpose to stop the effusion of blood. They do not mean that our government shall use the influence it is presumed to have with JUAREZ and other professed republican leaders, to induce them to adopt humaner methods. They are not so blind as not to see that homilies are unadapted to remedy this evil. Nothing can stop it but a strong hand laid upon the miscreants concerned in it. What, therefore, is advised is military intervention. So far the case is plain enough. The United States can pour an army into Mexico powerful enough to overawe the murderers, and if need be to bring the worst of them to condign punishment. What then? Is it the intention the United States shall maintain perpetual military occupation? That would be a more palpable violation of republican principles than the French and Austrians projected. They contemplated military rule only as temporary and contingent, and restored the due operation of the civil law at a very early moment. Is it the design of these clamorers for intervention, that under a pretence of restoring order, we shall seize Mexico and then annex it, granting to its several States the same rights as belong to States of our Union in full membership? That would certainly make the case of Mexico no worse than it now is, and might make it some better, but there are many and strong reasons for fearing our case, instead of being improved, would be made decidedly desperate. We have about as numerous and pressing embarrassments of our own as we can well stagger under. It would seem wiser to harmonize the dissonances we now have rather than to go on a costly expedition after new ones.

Seven years ago eleven of our States fell into the Mexican fashion of holding an election first and afterward plunging into a fight to rectify alleged discrepancies. The democrats, with honorable exceptions, in all the other States, expressed great admiration for this innovation upon the old practice of acquiescing in the will of the majority. They justified it upon principle. Many things are much more improbable than that they may resort to it before many years shall elapse. So long as this leaven remains it would be most perilous to absorb all Mexico, and run the chances.

Undoubtedly there is force in what is now urged that our government got the Mexicans into their present predicament, and ought to get them out. So far as our government went in that matter it proceeded against our earnest remonstrance. We never believed in the MONROE doctrine as held and expounded by our demagogues, and have less faith in it to-day than ever before. If there was any way of extricating the Mexicans from the dilemma they are in, without running serious risks of getting ourselves into another about as bad, we might be inclined to consider it, if we could be first convinced the Mexicans are worth bothering with. Of all the people on the face of the earth, making pretensions to civilization, they are the most incurable and helpless.

The authorities at Washington have been reported for some time as engaged in negotiations with JUAREZ for the province of Lower California. Agents have been sent thither to explore and report, and have doubtless performed that duty. On the side towards the Pacific this province is mountainous and barren. On the border of the Gulf there is some fertility; but back, to the foot of the mountains, it is covered with sand. There are reports of mineral wealth. At the head of the Gulf is the mouth of the river Colorado, a fine stream, navigable far up into Arizona, if not into Utah. The navigability of this river is the pretext for acquiring the province, though there are sinister rumors of private speculations connected with the purchase. It is highly probable that the existing complications will be turned to account in securing some sort of title to the desired territory.

Queen Victoria's Kitchen—Women in France—The Latest Parisian Oddity.

The staff of Queen Victoria's kitchen includes the chief cook, three master cooks, two yeomen of the kitchen, two roasting cooks and four apprentices. There are also two larders and storers, a storekeeper, two green office men, three kitchen maids, and two men to superintend steam apparatus. The salary of the chief cook is about $3,500 a year; that of the master cooks a moiety of that sum. The chief and master cooks have the privilege of taking the apprentices, of whom there are now four; the premium which is received from each (averaging from £150 to £200) being divided, as "per arrangement," between them. The salaries and wages of the other persons in the kitchen vary from ten shillings per week to one hundred and seventy-five pounds per year. A lad who is apprenticed to one of the Queen's cooks may, if he conducts himself properly, obtain a situation in the kitchen at the expiration of his term. The first step is, in the event of a vacancy or of one being created, the situation of a larder; and sometimes, if he have friends and influences, he obtains the situation of clerk in the Controller's office. The chiefs of the kitchen dine by themselves at three o'clock, the chair being taken by her Majesty's chief cook, or in his absence by the senior cook. The apprentices dine with the scourers, kitchen maids, etc.

A Paris letter says: "There is no land in which woman are so respected and honored as in America. A woman in high life on this side of the Atlantic is treated with marked courtesy, but women, as a class, are drudges and nothing else. Looking down from my window, I see the scavenger's cart with two men and two women, scooping up the offal of the streets—the women with great brush brooms, and the men with shovels. Come with me to the great market of St. Ustach, a few steps from the Rue de Rivoli. It is an immense structure—a great iron shed or sheds, covering two squares—women at all the stalls—burly, red-faced, wielding cleavers, cutting up sides of beef—fish women, crying in shrill voice the excellence of their sole and salmon—fruit women—also sellers of vegetables, and pretty girls with flowers for sale, beseeching you with such grace that you are the owner of a boquet before you know it. There goes a woman with a basket of potatoes on her head; another with a big tub filled with meat. There comes one with a rack on her back filled high with baskets. Another trips along with a yoke on her neck, bearing two pails of buttermilk. She is certainly under the yoke, and so are they all. High born—those who would go down on their knees before the Duchess d' Angouleim, or my Lady Highflier, would crowd every one of these hard-working women into the gutter. No respect is paid them in public places. Gentlemen puff away at their cigars in the cars without deference to the presence of a lady, no matter how well dressed or how well behaved. No Frenchman resigns his seat to a woman. He will bow very low and do everything for Lady So-and-so, but for a woman whom he may meet in public—never!"

The Paris journals relate the following strange story: "A gentleman and a well-dressed young woman went the evening before last to one of the restaurants in the Champs Elysees, and ordered dinner in a private room. All passed tranquilly until the meal was concluded and cigars and champagne served, when, after a short delay, the woman rushed down stairs in a state of great excitement, stating that the gentleman had attempted to kill her. She said that she had been accosted by him on the Boulevards, he saying that she was Caroline, and upon her replying that she was not, he persisted that she was, and asked her to accompany him to dinner, to which she consented. But when they had finished, he suddenly jumped up and exclaimed, 'I see you are not Caroline, and I am going to kill you.' She, however, made her escape. The proprietor of the restaurant, thinking this was a scheme of the gentleman, whom he knew as a custemer, to get rid of the woman, took no further notice of the matter. However, hearing nothing during an hour, he at last entered the room, and found the gentleman extended on the sofa, bleeding profusely from a wound in the region of the heart. At first, suspicions were entertained that he had been wounded by the woman, but upon the table was found written in pencil on a piece of paper, 'Caroline, my researches for you have been unsuccessful. Life without you has become insupportable, therefore I die.' He was conveyed to the Hospital Beaujon, but his state inspires serious fears."

Jealousy and Murder—A Co'ored Man Waylays and Kills the Disturber of his Peace—He is Shot Down and the Woman Beaten—The Murderer Escapes.

We have this morning to record another murder, in which the motive was not drink but jealousy, that most powerful passion of the human heart. In a shanty near Mosby street, in the northern portion of the city, a colored man named Jim Butler has, when here, visited a colored girl known as Maria Bonner. Butler is a steamboatman, and was absent a sufficient portion of the time to afford a gay dusky Adonis named Frank Greer, who is married, an opportunity to get in the good graces of his lady love. For some time Butler had been watching Greer, but was unable to obtain any direct confirmation of his suspicion. On Wednesday, after visiting Maria, he left, with the ostensible purpose of going away on a steamboat. But no sooner had darkness set in than he stealthily returned to the house, and learned that Maria was absent at church with Greer. This filled the cup of his agony to overflowing, and he determined on revenge. He waylaid the parties as they were coming home, and rushing up to Greer, fired several shots at him. One of them entered the right side, inflicting a wound which resulted fatally during the night. Butler then hurried home with Maria where he chastised her severely, striking her several times with the pistol. Coroner Cotton held an inquest on the body of the deceased yesterday, a verdict being rendered in accordance with the facts above stated.—Memphis Appeal.

CONSUMPTION.—This Scourge of humanity, bane of civilization, with despotic sway has fascinated itself into all climes, grades and conditions of life. Neither age, sex or rank are exempt from its ravages. Its dry hard hand falls alike upon youthful innocence and ripe old age. Some of the prominent symptoms are Cough Expectorant, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Lungs and Chest, Darting Pains in the Side and Back, Emaciation and a general negative condition of the whole system. It is satisfactorily stated that one-fifth of the inhabitants of this country and Europe die of Consumption. No disease has been more thoroughly studied, and its nature less understood; there is no disease upon which exists a greater diversity of opinion, and no disease which has more completely baffled all medical skill and remedial agencies. Persons suffering from this dread disease or any of its concomitants, should lose no time in possessing themselves of the proper remedies in order that they may stay its ravages, and be restored to health.

The Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON'S PREPARED PREPARATION for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Throat and Lung Affections, has been in use over 10 years with the most marked success. The remedy, prepared under Rev. Mr. WILSON'S personal supervision, also a pamphlet, containing the original prescription, with full and explicit directions for preparation and use, together with a short history of his case, may be obtained of the following reliable Druggists in this place, viz: JOSEPH FLEMING, 84 Market street, Pittsburgh, sole agent for Western Pennsylvania. my9:TuS

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

Victim of debility, who is responsible for your feeblepess? Not yourself, you will say, for you've done all you could to cure it. That's a mistake on your part. You have tried HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Gloomy dyspeptic, with an uneasy stomach and a world-weary face, of course you don't hold yourself responsible for your own torments. But you are. It is easy to see from your condition that you have tried HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Bilious sufferer, it is not your fault, you think, that your symptoms grow worse day by day. Blue pill doesn't do you any good. Very likely. But you can be brought round to health. Why have you tried HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Fried, on whom Fever and Ague alternately blows hot and cold, and whose brain seems to be bursting with the effects of some powerful drug, do you assume the responsibility? O, no! You have taken piles of quinine, and all the regulation medicines. What could you do more? One thing more—the very thing that many of have exempted you from all the pangs that now rack you. You have never tried HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Nervous invalid, what have you to say? You plead that you have taken all the nostrums of the pharmacopœia. If they have done you no good, it is not your fault. You are not responsible. Wrong, all wrong. You have, in reality, no body to blame but yourself. Why have'nt you tried HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

For all the above named complaints, the Bitters are absolute specifics.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, clearing them of all organic their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is powerful in its operation, and no disease which has more completely baffled all medical skill and remedial agencies. Persons suffering from this dread disease or any of its concomitants, should lose no time in possessing themselves of the proper remedies in order that they may stay its ravages, and be restored to health.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is powerful in its operation, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle, six for $5. AUCTION SALES.

FOUR HOUSES AND LOTS IN

SEVENTH WARD.—TUESDAY EVENING, May 14th, at 8 o'clock, will be sold, on second floor of Commercial Sales Rooms, by public sale, for very desirable Houses and Lots in the Seventh Ward, immediately adjoining the Passenger Railway Depot. The lots are each 20 feet by 76 feet in depth, to a 13 feet alley; two of the lots fronting on Cedar avenue and two on Duncan street, the continuation of Wylie. The improvements on each is a well-built two story Brick Dwelling, in each are six rooms and hall, and yard in front.

The handsome and desirable situation of this property is sufficiently known. No situation in or around the city is more inviting to capitalists for a sure and rapidly remunerative investment, from the certainly increasing importance of Centre avenue and the Wylie street extension, as the main avenues to East Liberty and all intermediate consolidation of Pittsburgh.

TERMS OF SALE—One-third cash; balance in one and two years, with interest immediate possession of the premises given to purchaser.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1867.

THE COURTS.

United States District Court.

Before Hon. Wilson McCandless.

Court opened at ten o'clock on Thursday.

On motion of District Attorney Carnahan, A. G. Cochran and A. S. Morrison, Esqs., were specially admitted to appear in the case of Gilson Hughes and Scott Smith.

On motion of District Attorney Carnahan, Edward J. Keenan, Esq., of Westmoreland county, was admitted to practice.

The Grand Jury returned the following true bills:

United States vs. Charles Clemens alias Charles Williams alias Allen Armstrong, alias Charles Wooster, alias Charles Stevens; robbing the mail.

United States vs. Scott Smith. Indictment, embezzling.

United States vs. Samuel W. Owens. Indictment, carrying on the business of a broker without license.

United States vs. John Duncan. Indictment, carrying on the business of physician without license.

The case of Gilson Hughes and Scott Smith was resumed and concluded. Thos. J. Keenan and A. G. Cochran, Esqs., argued that the defendants, being mere boys, acted without that moral responsibility which constitutes crime; that, although guilty, they were of an age by which the law gave the jury the power of using the right of clemency. The jury retired for deliberation and rendered a verdict of "not guilty" as to Gilson Hughes, and of "guilty" as to Scott Smith. Sentence was deferred.

The case of Charles Clemens, &c., was then called up, District Attorney Carnahan acting for the United States, and M. Swarden Dwarden and S. A. Purviance, Esqs., for the defendant. The indictment sets forth that the defendant took from the postoffice at Cockranven a package containing twelve hundred letters, opened them, and robbed them of money enclosed amounting to about sixty dollars. Several witnesses were examined, after which the Court adjourned till to-day at 10 o'clock.

District Court.

Before Hon. H. W. Williams.

Joseph Fleming vs. H. Darlington & Co. Action on a promissory note for $11,780, given by defendants, negotiable and payable to the order of George W. Smith, twelve months after date, November 1st, 1865. The note was given at Wheeling, West Virginia, in part payment for the purchase of the stock, good will and fixtures of the Wheeling brewery, from George W. Smith. For the defense it was averred that a part of the consideration of the note was the sale of a lot of ale, eighty-two barrels and three hundred and thirty-two half barrels, sold to the defendants as good, at the rate of eight dollars per barrel, when the same was not good, but sour and worthless; also, one hundred and seventy-nine barrels and one hundred and ninety-one half barrels of ale, sold as good ale at eight dollars per barrel, whilst the same was not good, but sour and unfit for sale; also, the barrels containing said ale, to wit: two hundred and sixty-one barrels, at three dollars and fifty cents each, and three hundred and twenty-three half barrels, at three dollars each, which were useless to defendants, but which they were willing to retain at the price stated, if permitted to empty therefrom the sour ale; also that Smith stipulated to put in good order a vault in the brewery, which stipulation he failed to perform, by which over nine hundred barrels of ale became sour, and was wholly lost, being of the value of seven dollars per barrel; it was also alleged that Smith had overcharged for a mashing machine to the amount of $425; also that Smith failed to further comply with the contract in not putting in repair a hop jack, by which a loss of at $50 was incurred; also that by the agreement Smith was bound to put in repair all the vessels and articles in the brewery, and that in pursuance of his orders such repairs were made involving an outlay, (as per bill) of $675. The whole amount of set off to the note, according to affidavit of defense, is $3,149 39, and it was further averred that upon a fair and equitable settlement between Smith, the real owner of the note, and defendants, there would be due the defendants over thirteen hundred dollars. For the defense it was contended that under the laws of West Virginia, (the contract for the purchase being made and the note given in Wheeling) the note is liable to be set off unmatured, and that the real holder of the note was aware of the same before it passed into the hands of Mr. Fleming, the plaintiff, and also that Mr. Fleming merely holds the note for George W. Smith. The case was on trial at adjournment. A. H. Miller, A. M. Brown and Gen. James. S. Wheeler, (of Wheeling) appeared for the plaintiff, and Thos. M. Marshall, J. H. Hampton and J. G. Chandler, (of Wheeling) for defendants.

Soldiers' Monument Association.

The Soldiers' Monument Association held a meeting at City Hall yesterday afternoon, at half past two o'clock.

On motion of John Watt, Esq., the Treasurer of the association, Mr. Parker, was requested to advertise for the return to him of all the books now in the hands of collectors on or before Wednesday night.

On motion, Captain A. A. Aiden, of the Quarter-masters' Department, U. S. Army, was added to the executive committee.

On motion, Mr. John Wilson was designated to make collections in the Second ward, and Mr. James Reed and Col. J. F. Slagle in the Tenth Ward.

On motion, a vote of thanks was returned to W. G. Johnson, Esq., for his offer to furnish badges free of expense to the association.

On motion, General Schoonmaker, Captain J. G. McConnell and Mr. Watt, were appointed a committee to wait on the distinguished civil and military gentlemen to be at the fair.

On motion, Messrs. Ernest Morrow and Anthony Lewis were appointed to make collections in the Eighth ward.

After hearing reports of various committees and the transaction of some other matters of business, the association adjourned to meet at the same place on next Thursday at 2½ o'clock P. M.

Hearing Deferred.

Robert Matthews, accused of passing counterfeit national currency, was to have had a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Sprouil, yesterday, but in consequence of District Attorney Carnahan being engaged in Court, the examination was deferred until to-day.

Matthews, it will be recollected, is accused of being concerned in robbing the Farmers Deposit Bank, in Canonsburg, on Friday night of last week, and an officer was in waiting to take him in custody, in case the proof in the counterfeiting case failed to warrant a committal for trial.

False Pretences.—James Strathen made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters, charging Thomas Long with obtaining a horse from him under false pretences. He alleges that Long came to Braddock's Fields and represented to him that a certain gentleman, residing in the city, had sent him for the horse and that the money would be given him when he came into town or would be forwarded to him, neither of which has been done. This occurred about the first of April last, and Strather thinks it is about time he should be getting his money. The horse was valued at one hundred and fifty dollars. A warrant was issued for the arrest of defendant.

Surety of the Peace.—Julia Muller and M. Newmeyer are residents of Saint Peter's alley, in the Eighth ward, and of late have had some skirmishes with each other. Julia appeared before Alderman Morrow yesterday and made information against Mrs. Newmeyer, for a breach of the peace. She alleges that Mrs. Newmeyer threatened to beat her over the head with a broomstick. The defendant was arrested and gave bail for her appearance to answer the charge.

Selling Liquor Without a License.—A. J. Higly, constable of Oakland township, made information yesterday before Alderman Morrow, charging Charles Welto with selling liquor without license, and also for selling on Sunday. It will be recollected that this is the house at which Wm. Joice was killed on last Sunday evening. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Larceny as Bailee.—Robert Steel made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters, charging James Fallin with larceny as bailee. He alleges that James borrowed a wheelbarrow from him, valued at ten dollars, which he has failed to return. The parties live in the Fifth ward. A warrant was issued for the arrest of defendant.

Malicious Mischief.—E. M. Greenawalt made information yesterday before Alderman Mullin, of Allegheny, against Ed. Turner, charging him with malicious mischief. He alleges that Turner maliciously broke a window, the property of prosecutor, of the value of one dollar. A warrant was issued for the arrest of defendant.

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with perfect safety.

TWO TABLE SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Ben amin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 9, 1867.

The produce markets have been rather quiet this week so far, the operations in most of the leading commodities being mainly of a local character, while so far as prices are concerned, the changes have been slight.

GROCERIES—The advance in gold has again inflicted Sugar and Coffee somewhat, but prices are without quotable change. Rio Coffee is quoted at 22c to 28c for fair to choice. Sugars—14½c for choice New Orleans; 13 to 14c for Porto Rico; 11½ to 13½ for Cuba; 10c for Sugar House, 16½c for hard refined, and 14½ to 15½c for soft. Molasses, 90c to $1 for New Orleans; 80 to 87c for Porto Rico, and 75c for Cuba. Syrups range all the way from 65c to $1.10, the outside figure for Lovering's. Rice, 10 to 11c for Rangoon, and 11½c to 12c for Carolina.

GRAIN—No movement in Wheat—no stock in this market, and no established quotations. Oats may be quoted firm at 65c, on track, and 68 to 70c in store. Corn is held at $1.14 to $1.15 for prime Yellow; sales of 380 bush medium quality at $1.10. Rye is quoted at $1.63 to $1.65. Sale of 130 bushels Spring Barley at $1.10.

FLOUR—Is firm, with a fair local demand but prices are unchanged. We continue to quote at $14.75 to $15.50 for good to choice Spring Wheat; $16 to $17 for Winter Wheat, and $19 to $20 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is firm at $9.50 to $10.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady, with sales reported as follows: 9,000 pounds Shoulders at 9¾c; 3000 lbs Ribbed Sides at 11½ to 11¾c; 15,000 lbs Plain Sugar Cured Hams at 15½c; 7000 lbs Canvassed do at 16½c, and 3000 lbs Breakfast Bacon at 15½c. Lard is quoted at 13½ to 13¾c, and Dried Beef at 22½c.

OIL—Lard Oil is steady, with regular sales by manufacturers at 87 to 88c for No. 2, and $1.08 to $1.10 for No. 1.

POTATOES—Is rather better demand and a shade firmer but unchanged. Sales of 80 bbls Peach Blows at $3 per bbl. Buckeyes, $3.50.

BUTTER—The arrivals being liberal and the supply considerably in excess of the demand, the market is weak and prices continue to decline. We now quote at 25c to 26c for choice Roll; 20 to 22c for fair, and 8c to 9c for Grease Butter.

EGGS—In better demand but unchanged, though holders are a little firmer—15c.

SUGAR-CURED HAMS—Are quoted dull; small sales at 2,75@3. Flaxseed is in good demand at $3. No demand for Cloverseed.

GREEN APPLES—In limited supply, and especially is this true in regard to prime qualities, which may be quoted at $5 to $6 per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull but — unchanged small sales at 8 to 9c for Apples, and 13c to 15c for Peaches.

HAY—Is quiet and unchanged. Sale of 1 car medium quality at $24 per ton.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 9, 1867.

CRUDE—The market was less active and a little weak to-day, with more sellers than buyers, while prices remain unchanged. We have sales of 500, 400 and 1700 bbls, all at 7c—3000 bbls, against something like eight thousand yesterday. Some of our refiners have been selling within the past few days, which may be accounted for in the fact that all their tanks were full, and they had no place to put it. As a matter of course, there is no inducement for a refiner to sell at present, as he cannot replace the thing he sells, and his profit will amount to little or nothing. We have no late advices from Oil City, but we presume the price there remains unchanged at 6¾ to 6¾, the figure there is no margin for the Crude dealer, when he delivers it here, after paying thirty cents freight, as seven cents is just $2,80 per barrel, nothing more, counting 40 gallons to the barrel.

REFINED—There was but a single transaction in bonded oil to-day that we could hear of, and while the market is quiet, prices remain unchanged. We are cognizant of one broker being authorized to contract for spot oil at 20c, for prime light straw white, on cars here, and 12½c for standard white, which would be equivalent to 26c for the former, and 27c for the latter, delivered in Philadelphia. Free oil in that city Philadelphia may be quoted 27 to 27½, and July, 28c—standard white, and 30c is a fair quotation for the last three months of the year. Crude oil is quiet and unchanged.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 9, 1867.

ARRIVALS AND SHIPMENTS.

The shipments east on Monday from the Central Yards, as reported by Hedges & Taylor, were as follows: 75 cars cattle, 30 cars of Hogs. The arrivals since Monday were 25 cars of Cattle; 31 cars Sheep, and 34 cars of Hogs.

CATTLE.

The market is firm, and if there were any cattle coming, there would no doubt be considerable activity manifested, but as it is, buyers have no stock from which to make selections. The large proportion of the cattle arriving being consigned to the east, and this point seems to be used mainly as a "feeding" point, we do not enhance the value of the stock for an investor.

Bank stocks are more in demand again since the dividends of some of the banks having a large deposit have earned from six to seven per cent. on the capital stock. Mercantile paper is carefully scrutinized.

—Governments are strong, and there is a steady absorption of capital from investors by the gold-bearing bonds, those most in favor being the consolidated bonds of 1865. Seven-Thirties are also firm. Compounds are scarce, and large amounts are awaiting the next issue of the 10 per cent. certificates, which are attractive from two causes. First, they can be used by banks for reserve, a service which the compounds, it is supposed, will be prohibited from fulfilling after next session of Congress. Secondly, the issue of the new certificates is limited by law to fifty millions, and consequently there are thirty-five millions of compound notes held in the banks as reserve which cannot be exchanged for certificates. Hence the certificates, it is urged, will be scarce, and many banks are anxious to get their compounds converted early, so as to make sure against disappointment.

—The Treasury Department is still endeavoring to withdraw from circulation the bills of failed national banks. The task is a difficult one. The Laconia National Bank (N. H.,) having been chartered without circulation, the Comptroller agrees to give it an amount of National notes equal to the bills it will collect of the suspended institutions. The Laconia, therefore, offers the very liberal commission of two per cent. on all such notes retired to them. Here is a good chance for the bank tellers to earn a little money.

—Comparing the semi-annual dividend of the Philadelphia banks, just published, with those of last December, it is shown that they are not equal. The Philadelphia makes 1 per cent. less, the Bank of Commerce 1½ less, and the Consolidation 2 less. The total dividends payable at this period is $863,819, against $904,809 in November last —showing a decrease of $40,990. The amount of capital divided on now is $14,572,450, against $13,917,150—an increase of $655,300. Notwithstanding the increase of capital, the amount of dividends is less.

Swine dull and 50@75c is now the highest price realized for prime heavy corn fed hogs, while common bring scarcely 7c. The supply is 100 head, large, of the demand.

Wheat and Flour Shipments to the West.

The Philadelphia Price Current of Saturday, says: four thousand bushels of California wheat were purchased here this week, at $3,40 per bushel, for shipment to Pittsburgh. This must convince the most sceptical that the West has been completely drained of choice wheat, and we cannot anticipate any supplies from that quarter until the new crop makes its appearance.

The Toronto Globe of yesterday remarks in its commercial article: "It is also rumored that an order for 100 loads of white wheat flour was received here to-day, for Chicago."

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly but steadily at this point with scant ten feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks, and five and a half feet at Oil City. The weather yesterday was cloudy and calm, with indications towards evening favorable for more rain.

The arrivals include the Lorena, from St. Louis, and the Robt. Moore, from Portsmouth. The Kenton, from New Orleans, and the Glendale, from St. Louis, are due here to-day.

The Armenia did not get off until yesterday afternoon. She had, as we before stated, an excellent trip, her guards being down to the water. The Echo left for Oil City, and the Ida Rees No. 2 is due here to-day from that point.

The Kate Robinson, Capt. Robt. Robinson, is now in turn for St. Louis, and will be the first boat out, and the Ida Rees, Capt. Joe. Brown, leaves to-morrow evening for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The Julia No. 2 and Ezra Porter were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday, and the Camelia was also announced to leave for the Tennesee river the same day.

The Glasgow, Sherman and Silver Cloud passed Evansville on Tuesday, and the Robt. Moore and Glendale passed Pomeroy enroute for Pittsburgh the same day.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Tuesday, says:

The river continues falling steadily, producing a general sparring out of boats. All the upper rivers are on the decline. Business was quiet on the levee yesterday, freight being scarce. The two boats loading for New Orleans deferred their departures. Freight is scarce and low for the mines and the forts on the Upper Missouri. The contractors for the transportation of Government freight are paying to Forts Sully, Rice and Union only 2¼c per pound. This may be bad for the boats, but it has the appearance of a fortune for the contractors, viz: Wm. M. McPherson and Messrs. Poe and Copelin. The new steamer Henry Adkins, finding prices so low in the Missouri trade, is trying to get a cargo of 300 tuns for New Orleans.

The Great Republic grounded at Carrollton, La., while landing some passengers. The services of two steam tugs were brought into requisition, and the leviathan steamer was pulled off with no damage but detention.

The Memphis Avalanche thinks the Memphis merchants are a very peculiar class, and thinks that in a short time the whole of the local trade will find its way to St. Louis. It says: "The St. Louis packets are accommodating and are in charge of thorough business men, while our packets are in charge of a class of men who are dead to all interests except their own. Their laying up of their packets when they should have played the trade, even at a loss, has forfeited all their claims on the merchants of our city.

The Great Republic left New Orleans for St. Louis at half past six on the afternoon of the second. The Picayune, of the 3d, says, the landing was filled with ladies and gentlemen who had come down to see her, or to part with friends going on her. She backed down to the lower market and passed up by the landing in gallant style, and at such a rate of speed as to convince the most skeptical that she can run, and we doubt not ere long she will prove it to the satisfaction of all.

The towboat Arrow, with three barges, blew ashore above Aurora on Saturday night, smashing her "brush-heap" pretty badly.

The Nashville Times, of Monday, says: Capt. Wm. Dew, of the steamer Valley Mist, arrived Saturday with a tow of 24,000 bushels of coal, for the gas works, and returned for lower Cumberland, where she will receive a cargo containing 80,000 bushels of coal for Clarksville and this city.

The Sam Parker arrived at New Orleans April 29th, from Wabash river, with barges in tow containing 32,472 sacks of corn and 100 tierces bulk pork. The Shark, from St. Louis, also arrived with 30,000 sacks corn, containing 8127 barrels flour, 15,123 sacks corn, 8853 sacks oats, 1689 sacks bran, 205 barrels pork, 267 barrels oil, 71 barrels whisky, and two hundred tons of assorted freight.

An investigation into the affairs of the Louisville and Portland Steamboat Canal, is in progress in the Treasury Department, Washington. The investigation shows that the Government has paid some half million dollars for improving the canal, and the corporators have been pocketing the receipts. Some developments of interest to steamboatmen will shortly be made.

A dispatch to Capt. James Shedden from Gould & Coal Banks, four miles above Lexington, Missouri, says: The Paragon and Yellow Stone passed down on Saturday, and yesterday the G. B. Alden and W. J. Lewis down. This morning the Isabel passed up; on Thursday, at Nebraska City, the Isabel and Ida Stevens passed down.

We extract the following items from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Wednesday: The Minnie arrived from Memphis, bringing 200 tons in that trip. She brought down 200 tons for this port, 200 tons for Louisville and 30 tons of reshipping freight for Memphis, and 250 tons for New Orleans. The Ezra Porter arrived last evening from St. Louis, with a fair trip. She reported business still all around in that section of the country. A lady, who gave her name as Mrs. Anderson, took passage on the West Wind last week for this port, and died of consumption of illness, and remained confined to her stateroom. Between Memphis and Cairo she disappeared from the boat, and it is thought she committed suicide. She said, in conversation, that she belonged to this city, and had been South for her health. Her manner at times was of such a character as to lead to suppositions of attack of insanity.

The New Orleans Republican, of Sunday, says: There is no necessity of getting up a spirit of rivalry between the two great boats between Richmond and the Great Republic. The owners of both boats have evinced an enterprize that is commendable, and Capts. Leathers and Miller neither one has displayed any great speed in running; time will develope which will wear the palm. They both should be sustained and will be.
